

Programs and Activities

June 27 through August 15, 2010

National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior

Join us for a variety of ranger-led programs, from easy walks and evening talks, to boat tours and all-day hikes.

RANGER-LED ACTIVITY SCHEDULE

We have a big schedule of activities that are tailored to suit a wide variety of needs and abilities. Come and spend some time with us and have a great vacation in the park.

- Here are a few ideas to help make your hiking adventures more enjoyable.
- Sturdy foot gear is a must for all but the very easiest of hikes. Everyone should have good boots, with strong support, to help prevent ankle injuries.
  - Bring water with you! The mountains can get very hot in the summer. Surface water in the park may be unsafe to drink.
  - Mosquitoes and flies can be bothersome. Come prepared with repellent to avoid some of Glacier's smaller wildlife species.
  - A day of hiking can expose you to more sun and UV rays than normal. Wear a hat and sunscreen. It will help keep you cool and prevent a sunburned scalp!
  - Weather can change quickly. Come prepared with rain gear for summer showers.
  - Bring something to eat while you are in the backcountry. If you are on an all-day hike or a hike over the noon hour, you'll get mighty hungry without lunch. Remember, if you pack it in, pack it out.
  - Children are welcome on interpretive activities, but should always be accompanied by an adult.
  - Come prepared to have a great time!

Ranger-led hikes are a traditional way people have experienced the park for decades. In this picture from 1975, Ranger Bob Schuster leads a group of hikers to Red Rock Falls in the Many Glacier Valley.

Happy Birthday to Us!

It's Glacier National Park's Centennial Year and we have a number of special celebrations planned.

Stop by any visitor center for a copy of the Centennial Events Calendar. Events will be taking place both inside and outside the park all summer long.

Special Programs and Events

At Home In This Place: Native Perspectives on Glacier National Park

We invite you to experience the new permanent interpretive exhibits at the St. Mary Visitor Center. The exhibits feature Blackfeet, Kootenai, Salish, and Pend d'Oreille perspectives on their long and personal relationships with the land we today call Glacier National Park. Dioramas, models, videos, interactive maps, and original artwork are included in the exhibition. The exhibits open to the public on July 1.

Astronomy Under the Big Sky

Explore the wonders of Montana's big sky. Solar scopes will be set up in various locations throughout the park to view the sun during the day. Telescopes will be available at night to explore the Milky Way with our resident astronomer. Look for fliers at park visitor centers for more details starting July 20.

The Glacier Institute

Institute instructors host one, two and three day outdoor workshops and youth camps that immerse participants in this stunning and stimulating environment. Glacier's mountain classrooms are home to more than 1,200 species of plants, 240 species of birds and 65 species of mammals. Instructors are all recognized experts in their fields. Join them for a learning adventure you will never forget. Call (406) 755-1211 or stop by any visitor center for a course catalog.

Join them at evening campfire talks throughout the park. Also this summer, recording artist Jack Gladstone shares his Blackfeet heritage at both the Lake McDonald Lodge and the Many Glacier Hotel. Check inside this paper for times and information.
